Jonathan Morgan, who exited Kekst CNC in 2006 to launch Perry Street Communications strategic PR shop, has returned to the Publicis Groupe unit as a partner in Dallas.

During his 14-year run at PSC, Morgan worked a number of joint campaigns with Kekst CNC.

“We know Jon well, and he brings to our firm a track record of success, wise counsel and judgment, entrepreneurial energy and strong relationships—attributes that will be highly beneficial to our clients as we work with them to navigate through this era of accelerated change,” said Jeremy Fielding, Kekst CNC Co-CEO.

Prior to joining Kekst CNC in 2001, Morgan was director of research for Michael Dell’s private investment firm and Texas assistant attorney general.
